

BUNDLE BOY TO BUILDING SUPPLY

From the Semi-Weekly Freeman. He calls Youth To Mr. Davis in Rochester, Who Sends Greetings To Old Associates—Still Has Five Weeks Salary Coming Here.

R. G. Davis, Superintendent of the big Insurance Building in Rochester, N. Y., writes as follows:

Rochester, N. Y., July 23, 1919.
Editor Kingston Freeman,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:—The writer, an old friend of the semi-weekly Freeman, to which he has subscribed since the semi-weekly edition has been published. "The Wives of the Great" Clerk. We note however you also include the names of several of the old time dry goods merchants and clerks; of the latter, the writer was one, after he had served an apprenticeship of store sweeper and bundle boy, having begun our commercial career in 1867 in the Hasbrouck block opposite the old Uster market on the Strand, at the age of thirteen years. We well recall the bluntness of our daily service as the same as the Grand Army Man, the hours were identical.

We were first employed by a dry goods merchant from Detroit, named D. Lawrence Shaw, a nephew of A. King Chandler. After a very short time Mr. Shaw, not proving successful went into bankruptcy, he still owes the writer for five weeks' services, then A. King Chandler, we presume, to have himself from a heavy loss, took over the stock of goods, brought several salesmen from his Newburgh store, but retained the writer to his position as above noted; but as there was nothing retroactive about Mr. Chandler, the bundle boy, still has five weeks salary coming to him; Mr. Chandler, continued the business about one year, then the Kingston firm of Crosby, Webster, Merrill & Co., paid him in personnel, were Edward Crosby, Oliver C. Webster, Cornelius O. Merrill and John H. G. Lawrence. Mr. Webster later retired from the firm and was succeeded by E. B. Gunn. This firm did, we could name many prominent Uster county families who patronized their identical store, no doubt Herbert Carl may remember the writer, as in that store during the writer's service, Mr. Carl started his commercial career, coming direct from the farm in the town of Woodstock, and we can look back with pleasure to our association.

We also recall as fellow clerks: Simon Wood, who later started an opposition in the Cashin Building; Charles E. McCarthy of Rhinebeck village, George North, Jr., formerly a partner with Meyer Weil, Robert C. Hubbard, later a member of the firm of Benson, Hart & Hubbard, also Alvin S. Newcomb, as cashier. We later entered the employ of Meyer Weil, in the store occupied, the last visit we made to Rondout, by Derenbacher as a confectionery store.

There was one of our fellow clerks was Peter Fox, whom we note is still jumping counters, and dry goods clerks were called "counter jumpers" in those days. We hope if these crudely written lines meet the eyes of any or all of our fellow clerks of those days, it may please them to learn that the writer is still on earth and in good health, and if business or pleasure calls them to Rochester, we will take pleasure in showing them one of the most beautiful cities in the U. S. A. and at the same time give them the glad hand.

ROBERT G. DAVIS.

"If I Am Happy Though I Cannot See, How Very, Very Happy All of You Should Be"

Thus he had sung "over there"—after he was blinded—"to cheer up other poor devils who were worse off than I."

One day this little cabaret dancer had almost run him down while she was motoring with a wealthy judge who wanted to marry her.

And an honest old soul—his landlady—told her how he had been blinded by gas after giving his mask to a wounded soldier. "The last of his family, too, poor boy." And now he must find his way alone—in the dark.

Alone—in the dark—and he young and brave and the salt of the earth! So the heart of this girl awoke, and the souls of the Madonnas of all ages stirred within her—

But see this picture, made from the wonderful story, "Salt of the Earth," by George Weston—a story which touched the whole country when it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post.

Almost everybody who has seen "Eyes of the Soul" says it is Elsie Ferguson's finest picture. When you see it, won't you please let us know what you think?

DEMOCRATS TO MEET MONDAY

In Common Council Chambers When Leaders Will Submit Tickets They Have Selected—Mystery Surrounds Slate.

Next week will be circus week in Kingston with the Democrats staging a one ring circus Monday evening in the common council chambers at the city hall, and Tuesday when the Robinson shows will present a three ring affair. One promises to be about as interesting as the other. Both will show entirely different acts, and both are noted for the quality of the performance they put on.

Mystery, deep and dark, surrounds the slate the Democratic leaders will submit to the members of the party. It is only fair to state, however, that the mystery is due entirely to the fact that the leaders are not positive as yet as to whether the candidates they have picked will stand for the picking.

From what could be learned the leaders are anxious to have Judge Jenkins accept the designation for mayor on the Democratic ticket, but at the time this was written it was not known positively as to whether the judge would accept the honor. If he should accept it is said that William B. Martin will likely be his running mate as alderman-at-large.

Whether the session Monday evening will be open to the public is not known at the present time, but undoubtedly all who are known to be loyal Democrats will be admitted after being identified by at least one leader.

There is also some talk of naming a townman man if Judge Jenkins absolutely refuses to stand without hitching, and likely it may be James I. Dwyer or Dr. John F. Larkin.

If the leaders are unable to secure a candidate for mayor Monday evening they will hold another meeting later.

Y. JUDGE IMPOSES THIRIFT SENTENCE

Plan Enables First Offender to Save $230 in Six Months.

The practice of thrift, imposed by a judge's court justice as a "punishment" has met with such favor that it promises to become popular with both the courts and with offenders. The first man sentenced under this system is a month ago in Niagara Falls, N. Y., when convicted of a minor offense complained bitterly because he considered the sentence excessive. Now he has thanked the judge who imposed the sentence and voluntarily continued the "punishment."

He is David Broderick, who was placed on probation by Justice Piper and ordered to pay $12 a week to C. V. Mahoney, assistant county probation officer. Broderick protested, saying it was impossible for him to pay so much, but agreed to try when he realized a jail sentence was the only alternative. Each week since that time he has brought in his $12.

At the expiration of his probationary period he was handed $230.50 in War Savings Stamps. Justice Piper found on his desk a card wrapped in the "coming note" signed by Broderick: "I'm a friend of mine. Good luck."

Broderick then sought out Mr. Mahoney, asked him to hold for him the stamps already bought, and voluntarily placed himself on indefinite probation, promising to bring in $10 a week to continue his savings investment.

The practice of sentencing minor offenders to a term of saving has grown widespread throughout the courts of New York State. In the police court of Syracuse in 1918, $5,000 was invested in War Savings Stamps by minor offenders, most of it under compulsion. All of it later was returned to the men or was used to aid in the support of their families.

Charles S. Chute, secretary-treasurer of the National Probation Association, declares that the teaching of thrift is most vital in probation work and says the issue of small government savings securities has been of great assistance to probation officers in that state.

POSIES FOR HATS

Summer Headgear Trimmed With Flowers and Fruits.

Lilacs, Wisteria, Lilies and Green House Products Are Used—Feathers Popular.

The old-fashioned flower-laden hat in leghorn and in horsehair straw has come back to us from out of the past, and, true to type, it is trimmed with collections of flowers in striking combinations of vivid colors. White and purple lilacs are used with sprays of wisteria, and large flowers, such as tiger lilies, pond lilies and even callas are used on the larger shapes, says Vogue. The flower-covered crown is particularly adapted to the young girl. For instance, a hat of a delicate lavender horsehair straw which shines like silver in the sunlight, has a crown of old-fashioned plums. For the older woman, black lace is shown for midsummer—not, as one might think, in an all-lace hat, but as a softening for the harshness of white leghorn. It also is used to veil the colored flowers of the large summer hat that is still in line, rather than the floppy one for the young girl.

Odd materials are making their appearance in the midsummer hats. Corn husks that have been dried in the sun and hand painted make an ideal turban. They are light and, when woven together, are fashioned into a most durable hat. Softly draped turbans and brim hats, turned mushroom in shape or with turned brims, are shown in shaggy felts or in long-haired silk duvetyne.

Feather hats will undoubtedly be seen throughout the summer. The uncurled ostrich feathers are, perhaps, most frequently used. Glycerine ostrich and ostrich tips are used on the large summer hats. For instance, in a large shape of thin straw in lemon yellow, four tips in different colors entirely cover the crown, while the spines of these feathers are painted in a vivid color. An orchid colored tip may have a vivid green spine, while a French blue tip may have a cerise spine. Tappe, as another novelty, is making a number of smart hats with wreaths of fruit—lemons, oranges, cherries, grapes and other household products. One of the smartest and most striking examples of new trimming is the use of Scotch thistle on a lace straw of large dimensions. And for the welcome of the Rainbow division, one designer especially created a lovely hat in flesh color trimmed all over the brim with clusters of heads of wheat in all the delicate shades of the rainbow.

BLOUSE SLIPS OVER HEAD

Late Paris Arrival Has Round Neck Opening and Fastens Along One Shoulder.

Something very new and quite the latest thing in Paris is a blouse that has a round neck opening and slips over the head, fastening along one shoulder. The sleeves are cut kimono style. In one with the garment, and reach midway between shoulder and elbow. There is no fit to the blouse which hangs in straight, soft lines from neck to hip, a knotted silk cord or narrow shawl holding in the material at a low waistline. A most artistic and picturesque blouse is "la casaque" and ideally comfortable for lounging about the house, but it rather lacks the formality as an away-from-home garment, although in Paris these loose blouses, almost without sleeves, are seen everywhere—in the street, at the restaurants and on the tennis courts. Sometimes the material is soft silk crepe, sometimes chiffon is used, and evening blouses in it cascade style are of this, white tulle silk or satin, with hemstitching around.

IN NEW UMBRELLA HANDLES

Bakelite Is Latest Material, Finished With Loop of Same Material or of Leather.

To be quite in accord with the prevailing mode, one should see that the new umbrella handles of a bakelite handle, finishing with a loop of the same material, or of leather, which will help one to retain this necessary in her possession for a reasonable length of time. The new substance comes in a variety of colors and can be obtained both transparent and opaque, to suit the individual taste. The white bakelite closely resembles ivory or a very fine celluloid, when yellow, it is clear like amber, and in delicate green it is slightly stained and almost like jade. The round handle is available to suit the convenience of the person carrying it, and the leather loops are attached at the lower part of the straight handle. When one has learned the value of these protective loops, they are found almost necessary throughout.

REP'N TICKETS DESIGNATED

tion of Mr. Conner for designation as coroner.

The City Convention.

The business before the unofficial county being concluded the delegates from the towns went out and the delegates from the wards of this city came into convention to designate a candidate for mayor, and for alderman-at-large.

None Oppose Mayor.

Senator Walton, after the convention had been called to order, placed in nomination for designation for mayor, Palmer Canfield, Jr., telling of the good work done by Mayor Canfield since occupying the office. Henry R. DeWitt moved the secretary cast one ballot for the unanimous designation of Mr. Canfield, which was done.

B. J. Hornbeck and Carl G. Fischer were named as a committee to escort Mayor Canfield before the convention, and the mayor expressed his appreciation of the honor bestowed by a renomination and of the confidence reposed in him, and that important questions were to be solved that were of great interest to the citizens and would be during his next term if elected.

For Alderman-at-Large.

Charles E. Powell named Lieut. Rudolph C. Dittus for designation for alderman-at-large; Frederick Heybrouck named Ralph Mann; T. I. Rifenbary named Samuel Watts. B. J. Hornbeck seconded the designation of Lieutenant Dittus; Samuel Watts withdrew his name, thanking his supporters and saying business interests made it necessary to retire. Elmer E. Swart named George Schick, which Henry Connolly seconded, as did also Francis C. Merritt.

Dittus on Second Ballot.

The chairman appointed T. I. Rifenbary and John M. Cashin tellers. Two ballots were taken, the results being:

First Ballot.
Dittus	27
Schick	17
Mann	15
Total vote	59
Necessary to choose	30

Second Ballot.
Dittus	43
Schick	15
Mann	1
Total vote	59
Necessary to choose	30

George Schick thanked his friends who had voted for him and said he would have no animosity because he failed to get the designation and would work and vote for the whole county and city ticket, and that one of his friends would offer to make the designation of Lieut. Dittus unanimous. Mr. Swart made a motion to that effect which was carried.

B. J. Hornbeck was appointed a committee to escort Lieut. Dittus before the convention, and the latter being brought to the stage thanked the delegates for the honor and promised to fight as hard in behalf of the citizens of Kingston as he did while in the army for the people of the United States and their allies. There being no more business before the convention, the chair declared it adjourned.

Good Practice in Banking.

A banker I know says that in loaning money he also asks about a man's wife. Is she a spender? Does she often run the family financial affairs against her husband's judgment? The banker is suspicious of that sort of man. You may think that a woman is very prominent socially the "queen" her husband, but this banker declares it—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

WOMAN'S LAND ARMY IN ULSTER

This County Has Been Center of Activity With 30 Camps and 700 Girls Working and Demand For More—Funds Have Not Increased Fast Enough to Meet Demand.

Following is the bulletin of the New York State Woman's Land Army, Inc.:

The work of our organization during the month of June developed so rapidly that the demands upon us far exceeded anything we had anticipated and were far beyond our financial limitations. We had believed the popular theory that many of the returned soldiers would go onto the land. In continuing the organization on a permanent basis we were not anticipating any emergency work, but were looking forward only towards supplying labor for the normal shortage of a short time labor which existed before the war and which we were confident would exist after the war. The latter part of May, however, we suddenly became overwhelmed with a demand for camps and by the second week in June this demand had increased to eighty camps and by July first one hundred. With our very limited funds, our staff of field workers was necessarily small and with but few exceptions the volunteer Land Army workers, like volunteers of other organizations felt that the time for a holiday had come. We were, therefore, unable to meet the demand but by unceasing effort and great personal sacrifices on the part of our workers we were able during May and June to open thirty-six camps—there are located as follows:

One in Chautauque county; one in Greene county; two in Nassau county; one in Suffolk county; two in Oswego county; one in Rockland county; one in Madison county; one in Clinton county; three in Westchester county; 27 in Ulster county.

Our biggest piece of work in June was the placing of twenty-three camps in Ulster county for fruit picking. For the past two years this work was done by the state food commission, the state labor department and the boy's working reserve. During last winter the fruit growers of Ulster county asked if we could help them this summer, if by any chance the men expected home did not undertake this work. We assured them of our readiness to help. The latter part of April the first call came—it was a request that we provide that section with five hundred girls between June 20th and July 18th, the workers to be distributed between camps. But the season was an early one and by the second week of June we were pouring our workers into the county and demand increased from twenty camps to forty and from five hundred girls to eleven hundred. We have given them thirty camps and seven hundred girls. We failed in providing our full quota because of the lateness of the date on which the demand came to us; because of the peculiar industrial condition which exists this year—many industries working full force following the war to make up for time lost—and because of lack of funds to carry on an adequate recruiting campaign.

But the fruit men of Ulster say today, despite the fact we could not this year meet the quota asked of us, that we have saved them many thousands of dollars and they believe the Land Army to be the first real solution of their fruit-picking problem. Some of these men have already built camps for us this season, others are planning them for another season. In the fruit districts of Monroe and Wayne the same type of work is being carried on, the same co-operation is being received from the farmers and the same application of the Land Army's value expressed.

The work in Ulster county today grew so quickly it was necessary to establish a central office and headquarters in that district and John Nicholson of Marlborough, a prominent New York lawyer and Ulster county fruit grower, generously offered us the use of Nicholson Hall at Marlborough for the season. Here was established our central office with a bookkeeper, filing clerk, commissary department and a general kitchen with one of our field secretaries, Miss Marion E. Walsh, in charge of the general direction of the work in the county. Each camp had a supervisor in charge, who combined the duties of supervisor and cook, except in the very large camps where a supervisor and cook were both necessary. All of the meats and foods which could be cooked to advantage in large quantities were prepared at the central kitchen and distributed by motor. All food was bought in bulk by the central office and camp supervisor requisitioned on this supply. There were many difficulties to overcome, such as the providing of fresh vegetables, there being none in Ulster county and only the commission men in New York city to be depended upon. There was also a scarcity of milk in Ulster, but a sufficient amount of it has finally been obtained through a Newburgh dealer and the twenty-three camps now in operation are receiving a full supply. In the beginning of our season in Ulster many girls came and went, finding the work harder than they anticipated, or camp life not what they had expected, but within a couple of weeks the camps were settled down to their work, with a very splendid group of workers, many of whom have already signed up for another season. In some of these camps workers have averaged from eighty-five to one hundred and ten quarts of raspberries a day in their picking.

A feature of the work in Ulster county is the development of the Community Center plan, which is an important part of the program of the New York state organization. Each Saturday night Land Army workers from all Ulster county, fruit growers and their families gather on the big assembly room at Nicholson Hall. There is a good speaker, a dance, a Community song or some other form of amusement. Supper is held weekly meetings, company notes and letters.

out many debatable questions. As a summer visitor in Ulster county said recently: "If you are not interested in the Land Army you might just as well keep out of Ulster county this season, for no one there appears to be interested in anything else."

Another interesting phase of our work during June has been the rapid development of the Clinton county camp at Schuyler Falls. We have there a very splendid group of girls who have been working in the orchards of the Champlain Valley Orchard Company, the Northern Orchard Company and many other farms in that vicinity. They have done both heavy and light work most satisfactorily. Here, also, the Community Center plan is being developed quite extensively.

Our greatest problem on July first is the obtaining of sufficient funds. The Land Army has never had an over abundance and since the signing of the armistice it has been most difficult to obtain the funds required. The question is continually being asked "Why does not the farmer support this work?" The farmer is showing today a desire and a willingness to assist in the equipping and opening of camps and in many instances even building them. But they have to be shown how to do these things and our great need, therefore, is for administrative purposes.

It seems as if it was quite clear that to carry on this work efficiently it must have organized direction and such direction cannot be carried on without funds. Dr. Albert R. Mann of the State College of Agriculture at Cornell, in referring to the support of the farmer for this movement says: "I feel very confident that as soon as farmers are persuaded that an enterprise is financially valuable to them, they will come forward with sufficient money to maintain it adequately. This has occurred time and again and I am sure that the same will be true as your letter indicated it has become true in some instances already, in connection with the employment of women labor on farms. Many of these things have to be demonstrated under some form of subsidy until their value is clearly recognized."

Cause for Rejoicing.

Leonard was walking with his nurse and met a friend of his mother, who proceeded to engage him in conversation in a most cheerful and unreserved manner. On parting with her, Leonard was silent for a long time, and then said with a gentle sigh of thankfulness: "I am an old, lonely, that I've got a nice, glowing mother."

WADSWORTH HITS TWO ARTICLES

marked, do not know what the Monroe Doctrine is or what it means. The Monroe Doctrine, he explained, is a declaration by the United States alone that this country will consider it an unfriendly act if any nation in Europe attempts to extend its system to the free nations in this hemisphere or control their destinies. "It is no international engagement," he said. "No nation's agreement was ever asked. It is no regional understanding. It is a 'Keep off the Grass' sign erected by Uncle Sam. It is your policy and yours alone. It was enunciated to protect the United States."

Definition Inadequate.
The speaker cited several occasions on which the Monroe Doctrine was used to prevent European military interference against nations on the western hemisphere. The definition of the Monroe Doctrine, said the senator, in this article is utterly inadequate. He said that he did not believe the covenant could be ratified without reservations being made, and called attention to the fact that one of the staunchest supporters of the league, ex-President Taft, advocated certain reservations.

"We can accomplish something to decrease the possibilities of war," said the speaker in closing. "There are some valuable things in the covenant. Some day I hope we will succeed in erecting a government by law, instead of a covenant of men, which will define the rights of men, the principles of international law and international crimes. There is no international law in the covenant. It will come. And I hope it will come under the leadership of America."

Nine Outsiders to Run U. S.

"If the reservations are not written in we will find this great republic, a subordinate government controlled by nine men with no obligations to perform under the theory of law. They would be left free to do what they pleased with the human race. It would not be government. It would not be freedom. It would be antiliberalism. It would be a government of the few. We would lose our freedom of choice between right and wrong in international affairs. We want to be able to say that this is right, we help them. We did it in '98 and we did it in 1917 when we expressed a freedom of choice and went to war with Germany. Let us show them that with freedom of choice, the world can trust us."

Senator Wadsworth was introduced to the large audience of men and women assembled in the opera house by County Chairman Philip Eling. Before launching out into his attack on the league of nations, he expressed his appreciation for the cordial welcome extended to him. The senator was applauded heartily both before and after his address. He commended the Ulster Republicans upon holding a county convention. A political party, he said, is a voluntary organization believing in certain principles of political economy. Its members have the right of assembly to express their differences, compare notes and give their opinions. He explained that as it was manifestly impossible to have all the electors meet in convention, representatives were chosen. That is party government, said he, and the only practical method of presenting the views to the elector. Senator Wadsworth expressed a hope that it would not be long before New York state Republicans and other parties would be permitted to hold state conventions. He pointed to the big majorities secured by the Republican party in Ulster county as an example of what could be accomplished by conventions. The convention, he said, brings men from all parts who go back imbued with a new spirit of devotion, and he added that the Republican party will declare its devotion to the constitution of the United States and to American philosophy of democracy.

ROCHESTER TOWN FAIR MEETING

Owing to the fact that the attendance has increased to such an extent that private homes can no longer accommodate the crowd, it has been decided to hold the next meeting of the Rochester Township Fair Association at the hall in Accord, next Monday evening, July 28th, at 8 o'clock. Everybody residing in or about the town of Rochester, interested in farming and the home is cordially invited to be present. Details of the plans for the "great combination fair-pie-cake-songs-fest and general get-together" to be held at Millbrook Grove, on August 27th are being worked out at these meetings, as well as a rehearsal of the community songs to be sung, so that the attendance of every one who wishes to take part is desirable. At the last meeting it was the general remark that in volume the men's chorus was supreme but that in quality, richness and tone possible the ladies were almost on a par. Work is necessary to equalize these qualities. Invitations are not necessary. Everybody is invited to come and help.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

A Profit of 14 Cents a Pound Is Not to Be Sneezed at. The Stroller Hears—The Hand-Shaking Season to Be Ushered In.

"I'll be jiggered if I see where prices are apt to drop for some time yet," remarked the customer, looking up from the advertisements he was reading in a newspaper.

"Nor I either," replied the busy barber, "but from the report that comes from Newburgh it would seem that the reason for many of the high prices is not far to seek."

"How is that?" asked the customer.

"Home grown tomatoes are being sold in Newburgh by the farmer who raises them for six cents a pound," explained the barber, "but the retail dealer who pays that amount, for his trouble in handling the tomatoes sells for twenty cents a pound, a nice clear profit of 14 cents on each pound he sells."

"That's a profit that is not to be sneezed at," interrupted the customer.

"You said something," replied the barber, "but I have found one sure way of beating old Mr. H. C. L."

"In what way?" asked the customer.

"Buy something else when I think they are asking too much for what I was thinking of buying," explained the barber with a grin.

"See that fellow," said the customer, suddenly pointing out of the shop window at a man passing by.

"What of it?" asked the barber.

"It has shaken hands with me once it has been half a dozen times in the past twenty-four hours," explained the customer, "and what I can't understand is the reason I hardly know him."

"That makes me laugh," interrupted the barber, "for surely you have lived long enough to know that the hand-shaking season is about to be ushered in."

"The hand-shaking season?" queried the customer, puzzled.

"Sure," replied the barber, "it starts in about now and lasts until after the November election."

STRIKE CRIPPLES AERIAL MAIL

Fliers Refuse to Take Planes Up on Account of Disbandal of Two Who Wouldn't Fly in Bad Weather.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, July 25.—The first strike of aviators in the employ of the government was on today. Twenty aerial mailmen failed to show up at Belmont Park, L. I., today, because of the refusal of the post office department to reinstate two aviators who had been discharged. The mail plane which was due to leave at five a. m., with the Chicago mail did not leave the ground.

New York, July 25.—The first strike of aerial mail carriers in the history of the world, badly crippled the government's air mail service today.

Two big mail carrying aeroplanes were lined up at Belmont field terminals in the Chicago and Washington to New York air routes, but not a single propeller was whirling. Pilot Angelini, scheduled to depart this morning with the Chicago mail, failed to appear. Only two of the twenty striking aerial post men were on the field. Pilot Riddick and Pilot Hamilton Lee, whose discharge he refused to take the air last Tuesday on the ground that weather conditions made flying dangerous, placed the aerial "walkout".

The air mail carriers on the western end of the Chicago to New York route went about their business, distributing mail from the skies. The Chicago pilot, however, left for Cleveland and another pilot left for Cleveland for Chicago for a sack of mail.

The Cleveland to New York mail came by train. The Washington pilot left for New York but New York mail for Washington went by train.

Eastern Division Superintendent Stanton and post office inspectors conferred at Belmont Park with Hamilton Lee but would not make public the result of the conference. Lee said that neither he nor Smith, the other pilot discharged for refusing to fly Tuesday, had changed their attitude. "I won't go up in foggy weather with a big machine which flies 100 miles an hour," said Lee. "I often can only see 150 feet ahead. In foggy weather it is necessary to fly 150 to 200 feet above ground to get directio and in case something went wrong and I had to make a quick landing when flying over a large city such a landing would be dangerous to the people below as well as to me."

Thus far the government has made no attempt to employ "scab" aviators to replace the men on strike and it is the impression at Belmont Park that the strike will be settled satisfactorily.

Milan, July 25.—A telegram from Vienna today again asserts that the Red government at Budapest, headed by Bela Kun, has been overthrown by a more radical group.

Considerable mystery surrounds the real situation at Budapest, but all the indications point to the overturn of the Bela Kun regime. The latest report from Budapest is that Bela Kun has asked the allied mission to secure passports to enable him to go to the Argentine republic in South America.

MOST AIR MAIL PLANES ON TIME

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, July 25.—The Washington-to-New York aerial mail left on schedule today. Second Assistant Postmaster General Prager was to carry a lantern. Perhaps parties could be formed at Broadway at stated intervals and escorted to the depot by a platoon of police. A salient might be driven in under mass formation from the southwest, but how to get out is a problem. Perhaps if the matter was taken up with Mr. Hines some solution could be found among the fifty-seven different varieties of railroad remedies. Why not call a meeting of the "people" and pass a resolution? Shall we be obliged to shun the station? S. O. S. Yours, etc., ALFRED D. VAN BUREN.

Cleveland, July 25.—After considerable discussion between the mail aviators and Superintendent Jordan of the western states mail aerial service today Cleveland and Chicago mail left at 10.15 this morning 45 minutes late. The mail for the east went by train, however.

Washington, July 25.—The Chicago-to-Cleveland airplane left on scheduled time, the post office department was advised today.

W. S. DEPOT TRAFFIC EVILS

The Editor of Kingston Daily Freeman, Kingston, N. Y.

My dear Sir:
Say, in these days of iron constables, safety zones and the splendid record our policemen are making in paying for motor-cycles out of the fines collected from speed violators, why not turn the deadly weapon of publicity on the traffic regulations around that amusement center known as the West Shore station? You are in danger of your very life and it surely must be as bad as "going over the top" to get to and from the trains. The warning, "Stop, Look and Listen," might with caution be posted every ten feet.

The barricade of trucks, baggage and cages of animals wild and otherwise at the main entrance is a terrible nuisance. An Alpine climber would shudder at the prospect. At night it might be advisable to carry a lantern. Perhaps parties could be formed at Broadway at stated intervals and escorted to the depot by a platoon of police. A salient might be driven in under mass formation from the southwest, but how to get out is a problem.

Perhaps if the matter was taken up with Mr. Hines some solution could be found among the fifty-seven different varieties of railroad remedies. Why not call a meeting of the "people" and pass a resolution? Shall we be obliged to shun the station? S. O. S. Yours, etc., ALFRED D. VAN BUREN.

OFFICERS WILL DEFEND WILHELM

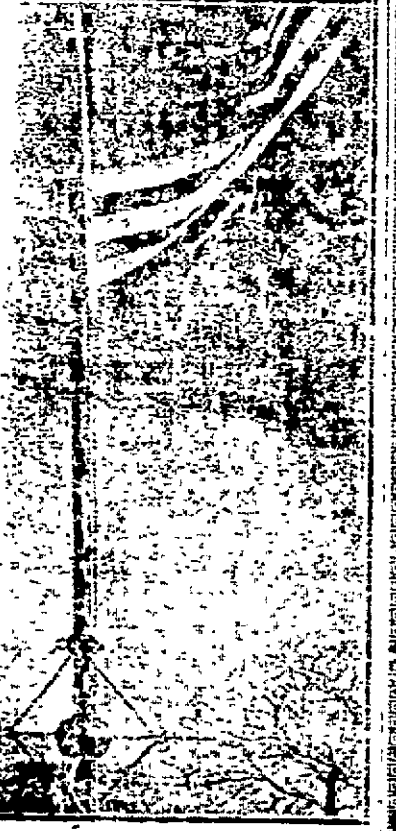

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Berlin, July 25.—If the ex-kaiser returns from Holland to Germany, many German officers will "fight to the death" to prevent the Entente powers from securing him for trial according to General von Plessen, who served the former emperor for many years as personal aide de camp. General Plessen is regarded as one of the most intimate friends of the exile.

A Fireless Smoke.

The origin of a cloud of smoke that issued from a cupboard in the rear of the McBride Drug store on Wall street this morning is a puzzle that the fire department officials and those connected with the store are trying to solve. Although Chief Chipp, members of the Wilkewick Company and Charles McBride, proprietor of the store, made a thorough investigation of the rear of the store, the cellar, and the outside, yet no trace of a fire could be found. Even the inside of the cupboard from which the smoke rushed forth in a big cloud showed no marks that there had been a blaze. There were a few bottles of castor oil and some Paris green in the cupboard but nothing inflammable.

IN FREEDOM'S WAKE.

Above the battlements of an old castle that overlooks the Moselle river at Coblenz, Germany, the emblem of Freedom floats from the flag.

staff that marks the headquarters of the American Fourth Army. The sight of this flag furnished the German people with a great surprise. W. S. S. helped to put this flag there.

Trinity Church Yard.
According to the New York city records, Trinity church obtained the site by a grant from the king of England. It was known as the King's domain. Later the largest tract of land owned by the Trinity parish, known as the queen's lands, came into the hands of that corporation by gift. Therefore we have no official records to trace antedating the English, save only the Dutch government and the Indians from whom the Dutch bought Manhattan Island.

HAT INITIALS

FURNISHED CLUE

And Led to Arrest of Edward Hogan

of West Union Street on Charge of Disorderly Conduct—Man Wanted in Tannersville Caught.

The initials in a hat turned over to the police Thursday evening led to the arrest of Edward Hogan of No. 65 West Union street at the Hildebrand shipyard at Connelly at noon today. Hogan is charged with disorderly conduct and will be given a chance to tell his side of the story to Judge Scherick in police court Saturday morning.

From the story as learned by the police Dr. John S. Robinson, the Albert street physician, has a small orchard in the rear of his garage on West Union street, near the residence of Police Commissioner Peter P. Zehl. The orchard has been under the care of Thomas S. Denniston of No. 44 West Union street, the sexton at Trinity M. E. Church.

Mr. Denniston has been missing fruit from the orchard for some time and so he decided to keep an eye open. Thursday evening he caught two young men robbing the trees. He grappled with one, but the other came to his friend's assistance and they both got away, but not before one of them had lost his hat.

The police were notified and the hat was turned over to Sergeant Hanley. It was the only clue found, but the initials in the hat led to Sergeant Hanley arresting young Hogan today.

Wanted in Tannersville.

Officer Connelly, this afternoon picked up one Max Miller, on the Strand at the request of the authorities of Tannersville where he is wanted to answer to a charge of assault. The details were lacking at the time this was written.
